THE GREATEST DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.

DR. CHARLES T. JACKSON'S Celebrated Ether Preparation, for which he has received, at the Great World's Fair, the Only Medal and Diploma ever awarded for Etherization, is now ready for the market. This is the preparation which has been used in the Hospitals and Public Institutions of this country and Europe, with such unbounded success, and which has received the highest encomiums from the Medical Profession, and from every individual who has ever tried it. It is entirely free from the disagreeable effects of the Ether in common use, and is the most powerful, safe and speedy Anæsthetic ever discovered. It is perfectly harmless, and the most delicate female may inhale it with safety. It is the only preparation of Ether that can be relied on, and is the only one that should be used. Explicit directions accompany each bottle. Price $1 00.

Prepared only by CHARLES T. JACKSON, M. D., Chemist and Geologist to the State of Massachusetts, and for sale by the principal Druggists throughout the United States.

Dr. C. T. JACKSON—Dear Sir: I have used your Ether in my practice, and have found it to be all that you represent it. I have used it in Dentistry, and in Surgical operations, and I have found it to be perfectly safe, and entirely free from the disagreeable effects of the Ether in common use. I have no hesitation in recommending it to the profession as the best preparation of Ether that I have ever used. Yours, truly, WM. H. DWINELL, D. D. S.

TRIAL OF CORN-PLANTERS.

The trial of corn-planters, at Jacksonville, was concluded on Tuesday evening. The competition was limited, only five machines being entered, but the excellence of those present fully made up for want of numbers. Two were hand planters, for hills, one manufactured by LESTER PATTEE, of Pekin, and the other by RANDALL & JONES, of Rockton; by either of which, we are satisfied a person can drop and cover two rows at once, in a field marked out only one way, at the rate of a mile and a half an hour, as an average. Two were horse power machines, dropping and covering two rows at once, in a field marked one way. Of these, one, invented and manufactured by G. W. CUNNINGHAM, of Bethel, Morgan Co., covered the corn by means of a double sett of cultivator plows; while the other, invented and manufactured by G. W. BROWN, Esq., of Knoxville, covered by two wide drum-wheels, which closed up the furrows opened by a sled-runner, into which the corn was dropped. We liked this machine. It exhibits a great deal of mechanical ability in the contriver, and with improvements which it is now obviously susceptible of, will meet the wants of our farmers. One of these improvements is the dispensing with the man who controls the discharge of the grain. This can evidently be done. One man and a pair of horses will then plant correctly twenty acres a day, and roll the ground at the same operation, crushing all lumps and clods. Good-bye to the bull-tongues. The fifth machine was a drill, manufactured by WM. TEAL, of Batavia, Kane Co. This machine, with one man and one horse, drops and covers one row, or ten acres a day with no previous preparation of the ground. It is generally conceded that drill culture produces from ten to twenty per cent. more of crop but involves the labor of hoeing where the ground is disposed to weeds. The friends of the implement, however, assert that this is obviated by permitting the planter to follow the plow; planting the corn the same week or day the land is broken up. The plant thus gets the start of the weeds so that a plow is sufficient to attend it. If this is true, and we think it very plausible, this is the proper culture for corn in this country.

On the whole, the trial is very satisfactory; it passed off harmoniously, the best of feeling prevailing among the exhibitors and all concerned. The farmer we noticed comparing notes freely upon the result of their experiments in planting. This is a very important feature in these trials. Inventors and manufacturers, as well as farmers, learn what is done by others, and we suggest to the former the combination, upon equitable principles, of the advantages of their different inventions, to produce a perfect machine.

On the first Wednesday in July there will be a trial of Self-Raking Reapers and of Mowing Machines at Bloomington, to which we look forward with much interest.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Express writes on the 20th: Two Indian Treaties—one with the confederate bands of the Ottoes and Missouris, and one with the Omahaes and the Nebraska Indians—were confirmed by the Senate to-day. The Indians sell all their lands, except those reserved for their future homes. The Government pay the Ottoes and Missouris three hundred and eighty-five thousand dollars; to the Omahaes, eight hundred and forty thousand dollars. It seems to be expected that the Indians will become civilized on these same lands!

THE NEW METHODIST CHURCH.—This building is now nearly completed. It has the loftiest spire of any church in the city, and altogether is a beautiful building—creditable to its designer and builder, T. J. Dennis,—an ornament to the city, and a lasting monument of the liberality, perseverance and enterprise of the leading members of that denomination. It should have a bell, and we understand the ladies belonging to the society are discussing as to the best plan to be adopted in order to get it. We say give a supper, and if a sufficient amount is not raised by it, circulate subscription papers.

☞ We glean the following from the St. Louis Papers:

A mob assembled at Louisville, and demolished a part of the residence of R. J. Ward. An indignation meeting was held in the Court House, and J. J. CRITTENDEN, requested to resign his seat in the U. S. Senate. Much feeling is manifested in regard to the acquittal of WARD.

NEW MOTIVE POWER.—A correspondent of the Syracuse Standard, writing from Rochester, speaks of the discovery of a new motive power which is to subvert the present mode of steam propulsion, and is a great improvement upon all former discoveries. He says:

It consists in the use of Bi Sulphate of Carbon as a motive power. An engine has been constructed which works like a charm. The expansive force of this material, as every chemist knows, is many times greater than that of steam, while at the same time it requires a much less degree of heat to vaporize it.

I will give you the result of an experiment with a miniature steam engine. It required the constant use of eight spirit lamps to generate steam enough from water to cause it to make one hundred and fifty revolutions per minute. Withdraw two of the lamps and all motion would cease. Withdraw all of them and keep them away twenty minutes, then apply the Bi-Sulphate of Carbon and there was heat enough remaining to propel the engine at the rate of one thousand times a minute. And this will apply on a large scale just as well. This substance being so easily evaporated, heat from 20 to 160 degrees is found sufficient for all purposes. Hence there is no danger of explosions as with steam. It is confidently believed that this new motive power is destined to supersede the use of steam. The inventor has applied for letters patent.

To sum up the whole matter, the inventor claims that a locomotive on this principle can be built at a less expense than a steam locomotive; that the boiler need be only one-tenth as large; the engine can be managed with less hands, a greater speed can be obtained, no danger from explosions, and a saving of fuel at the rate of eighty per cent. An instance of the value of this invention, if these things are all true, the New York and Erie railroad would save, annually, $300,000 by adopting the invention.

FROM FORT UNION, NEW MEXICO.

We are indebted to a friend for the following extract from a letter written at Fort Union, dated the 1st inst., by an officer of the U. S. Army. The writer says:

"The Apache Indians stole some cattle, a month ago, and a small party of Dragoons, under Lieut. BELL, from this post went out to inquire into it. I joined the command on a hunting trip, and, unexpectedly, we found the Indians. We tried all possible means to settle the cattle difficulty, (knowing they were the thieves,) but they would listen to no propositions, and were as defiant as possible during the talk. We gave them our ultimatum, and they refusing, we charged into them, and had a pretty running schirmage for about fifteen minutes.

"The Indians were near a deep cannon, of the existence of which we were not aware, and abandoning their horses, sought shelter in it, and our horses could not follow. We got a number of their ponies, killed five Indians, and wounded a number. Our loss was two killed and four wounded. All the latter are fast recovering.

"The only interest attached to this schirmage is that Lobo, the Chief, was killed. He was the Indian who attacked and destroyed the mail party of eleven in 1850, and in 1849 killed Mr. WHITE'S party and carried off Mrs. WHITE. She was afterwards murdered by the Indians when Major GREIER came upon their camp."

It will be gratifying to the friends of Mr. WHITE to know that the murderous chief Lobo has finally met with his deserts. His crimes and cruelty hardly deserved so favorable death as on the battle field. He merited hanging, rather than being shot in a fight.—Mo. Republican.

☞ Mr Lawrence Richardson was shot dead while sitting at the door of his house in Savannah, on Sunday night last. The murderer escaped.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

NEW YORK, April 28, 1854.

Dear Journal:

You have undoubtedly seen accounts of the loss of the Powhattan, emigrant ship, on the rocks at Barnegat, on Friday last. She had on board four hundred emigrants. Though they were near enough to the shore to be heard, no relief could be given them. Night closed with the hope that the ship would hold together a few hours. The next day the ship was not seen;—she had broken up;—and her officers, crew and passengers were in the deep ocean buried. Not one survived. Subsequently numerous bodies were thrown upon the shore, and now, every day, increases their number. The friends of the officers have sought in vain to identify their remains. A few hours of fair wind would have brought the ship into port. Such are the hazards of the sea.

You are aware that some fifty days have elapsed since the steamer City of Glasgow left England for Philadelphia, with a valuable freight of human life,—comprising more than four hundred passengers. She is missing still—and faint, indeed, is the hope of her safety. Several merchants in Philadelphia had their families on board, and the sufferings of these men can scarcely be realized. They are more to be pitied than even those who have made their beds in the coral groves of the ocean.

Before this date you will have seen Senator Benton's speech on the Nebraska bill. It is "a crushing effort." The scheme to force through the House another bill, similar to that which passed the Senate, it is said, has been abandoned for the present. Manifestly the voice of the people has been heard by members of Congress, and they dare not treat it contemptuously. But the Nebraska swindle must not be lost sight of—lest in an hour when danger is not apprehended, it may be forced through the House, and we know what, in that case, would be done with it, by an unscrupulous Senate.

The late arrivals from Europe do not change the former aspects of affairs there. No serious battles have lately taken place. Prospects seem to favor the belief that Austria will side with the Western Power. The western powers, who seem to have the sympathies of the American people, are perfectly willing to strike down the last hopes of freedom in Hungary and Italy, if Austria will but join them in their war with Russia. If it were not for the hope that something will grow out of the present war beneficial to humanity, the American people could have but little interest in it.

News from Madrid states that the Spanish government promptly appologized for the Black Warrior affair and promised pecuniary compensation for damages;—so that we shall not get into a war with Spain on that account.

An arrival brings information that the reported murder of some fifty of our people, who landed at San Blas, in Mexico, is not true. They were however, sent in chains to the city.

We have late news from San Francisco.—Walker, with some seventy-five men, was still in Mexico. His men constantly deserting him. Santa Anna has raised a force in San Francisco, of French, Germans and Mexicans, for their subjugation. Two vessels had left with many of these recruits. The third and largest vessels, while a short distance below San Francisco, on her way to sea was overhauled by the U. S. Cutter Frolic, Lt. Merryman, and taken back into port. This was done by the direction of the Collector on the ground that the vessel had taken more passengers than the law allowed. So it seems, Fillibusters can be raised in San Francisco, so can force to oppose them.

The Gadsden treaty, changed in many respects, has passed the Senate. This secures the right of way for a southern railroad to the Pacific. There are many men engaged in this projected road, and if they are in earnest they can soon go to work on the road—for there is no doubt that Santa Anna will accept the treaty,—for he is desperately in want of money.

Night before last there was a fire on Broadway, which burned up property insured for $127,000. But that was the least of the loss. The walls of the buildings fell, and killed 13 and wounded 21, firemen. This was caused by the imperfect manner of putting up the building; and by the great height in the upper stories. The particulars of this horrible affair are given in the papers.

The limits of Brooklyn have been extended so as to take in Williamsburgh. She is now the third city of the Union,—having a population of over 160,000 souls. If the arrangement would secure an improvement in the condition of the streets in New York, it would be a vast improvement to extend the jurisdiction of New York, over this city.

The weather for two days has been fine. I see some peach trees in blossom.

BLOOMINGTON, 3d May.

I have spent some hours this morning in looking about, and talking with the people of this fast little burg. The appearance of the place from the Central rail road depot, is citified and beautiful. From the Chicago and Mississippi road, it looks like an ambitious, upstart village, with a great gingerbread castle staring out upon the country north.

Within town, one is first struck with the great number and scattered appearance of the shops and dwellings. The buildings are generally one or two stories and mostly wooden. Some of the stores and cottages are handsome, but too many belong to the genius of "old shanties." Bloomington is about as big over as Springfield, apparently about as many trading shops, but the substance, business, and population, cannot be more than half as much. The business part of the town takes in three or four squares. There are half a dozen or more, steam-power manufactories, all working smartly. The Methodist Church takes the palm for taste and elegance.—The side walks are poor. The Central rail road side of the town is filling up fast, and is singularly beautiful for residences. Towards the Chicago and Mississippi depot, the orchards are striped, lots measured, and stakes set for hosts of new buildings. This part of the town they say is to come up.

RAILROADS seem to be the great fact in the life and history of Bloomington, and the people have made the most of them. With limited means, they have gone on, built, improved, speculated and blowed, till the place bids fair to be one of the most flourishing points in this part of the State. The people are now straining every nerve to get other rail road connections. They voted last fall $50,000 subscription stock to the Mississippi and Wabash Valley rail road, running directly east and west. They talk confidently also, about a road running in line with Danville. They understand themselves. The bare name of a city on the map of Illinois, crossed by the lines contemplated at this place, goes far to attract capital from other quarters, and will inevitable make the city a great distributing point for trade and manufactures.

And hence, we are almost mortified at the thought, that Springfield, with three times the capital, and twice the population of Bloomington, is halting and hanging over the proposition to subscribe enough to build THREE MILES of the Petersburg rail road. It is a plain, certain matter, that if that road fails for the want of encouragement in Springfield, that city must fall behind in the race with other cities for supremacy in Central Illinois. If our people then don't clear themselves from the shackles of "old fogyism," and take hold of the long arm of the leaver, Bloomington, Peoria, or some other small town in the vicinity, will in the end be the lucky holder of the glorious prize that now belongs to, and can be secured to Springfield.

But we are getting away from our story.—Property in Bloomington seems to have started up with the railroads. Another road, and it will take another hoist, speculation has now held up a little. A prominent corner lot, twenty by sixty, sold the other day for $2,000. The Bank Directors are putting up a fine brick building upon it. Fifty dollars a foot seemes to be about the figure on the best business streets. Outside dwelling lots, from one hundred to two hundred dollars.

Among the operators here, Esq. Gridley seems to hold the leading strings. He has done much to advance the interests of the city. A Mr. Pike, from the State of Maine, is fitting up the large Hotel that shows so conspicuously from the railroad. It is an extensive building, and will contribute to the respectability and appearance of the place. Messrs. Flagg & Ewing, also Brown & Myers, were spoken of, as having done much for the manufacturing and milling branches. Mr. Frees and others, are putting in the foundation for five three story brick stores on the Court House square. The two Mr. Fells are very actively interested in the building improvements of the city. In fact, there seems to be a good deal of the John E. Holl spirit up here, and as with him, the word is,—"BUILD UP AND GO A-HEAD."

The day seems rather dull and slow here. It needs a daily paper here, to enliven the interest of common things; and we were glad to hear from Mr. Merriman of the Pantagraph, that he was intending to print a daily at his office soon. We are surprised the project has been deferred till now. The citizens should support it amply.—We understand the temperance folks are going to vote on grog selling very soon. The general sentiment of the city being strongly temperance.

We noticed that Prof. Barton, our celebrated sign-painter, is stopping here for a few weeks, astonishing the natives with fancy touches in the line of his art. Z. A. Zwisler, that used to be current among the boys in Springfield, is clerking here in the Cloudas House, formerly called the National. This same stand, it is said, cleared $7,000 during ten months of the Central rail road excitement. Mr. Cloudas, recently from the Tazewell House in Pekin, has leased the house for three years. He is making large additions and improvements to the building, and if we are allowed to be judge, his house will reckon one of the most popular in the State.—Besides his good tables and clean beds, we noticed one item which we would recommend to our Landlords in Springfield; viz, good convenient reading files of St. Louis, Chicago and other Illinois papers. The numerous encomiums bestowed upon Sloan's medicines as remedies for all diseases, which the inventor professes they will cure and that too by men of worth and integrity, whose acquaintance we are proud to claim, place them higher in our estimation than any other medicine now in use.—[Sheboygan Telegraph, Wis. In another column will be found the advertisement of Hobensack's Medicines to which we ask the attention of all directly interested in their own as well as their children's health. To DR. M. [illegible]:—I have been ten years troubled with Female Com[illegible], [illegible] and all the attending difficulties, [illegible] rendering my life most miserable. I have had the attendance of some of the best physicians, with but little success; the most they could do was to relieve—a cure was out of the question. For five months before commencing with your medicine, I had not been able to perform any labor, could walk but a few steps at a time, and scarcely went out of doors—in short, I was completely prostrated, both in body and mind, and expected to drag out the rest of my days in suffering and misery. But, reading your advertisement, I was induced to try your invaluable medicine called Uterine Catholicon, as the last resort. I had not used it a week before I felt like another woman. By the use of three bottles I was enabled to perform all the labor for six in the family with ease, and could walk anywhere in the neighborhood without injury. Nothing but a sense of my duty to you and to the afflicted, has induced me to state my case to the public. I can safely recommend the preparation to all those suffering like myself.

To persons who wish, we can furnish names and residences of persons all over the country, who have been cured of Rheumatism, Sprains, Bruises, and the most loathesome Sores; as well as Tumors, Cancers and Wens—and of horses that have been cured of Spavins, Ringbones, Splint, Fistulas and Poll-evils and hard bony Tumors on the feet, legs, shoulders and back. Almost every farmer throughout the country can testify to its wonderful healing powers—and none of them would be a day without it. Owners of livery stables and stage companies can save hundreds of dollars yearly by using this Liniment on their horses whenever they become galled, chafed or crippled from any of the thousand accidents to which their stock is subject.

See advertisement in another column.

☞ CURE OF SALT RHEUM OF TEN YEARS STANDING.—A lady residing near Lino, Osage Co., Mo., had the Salt Rheum on her head during the last ten years, causing the most acute pain and torment. Six weeks ago it assumed a very dangerous character, spreading all over her head and face in the most frightful manner, so much so that her life was despaired of. She tried every remedy her doctor could prescribe, but all to no effect. One of her neighbors recommended the Mexican Mustang Liniment as the last resort.—Accordingly a bottle was procured and used as directed; the result was an immediate relief, and an entire cure in four weeks after commencing the use of the Liniment. Here are her own words to us a few days since:

"I never expected to see so many pleasant and happy days I have since I used your renowned Mustang Liniment. If the prayers of an afflicted woman can benefit you, then I freely bestow mine. I used about four bottles of your Liniment, and am now well as I could wish for."

A CURE OF A SEVERE SCALD.—Eight days ago, an engineer working in a foundary in the upper end of the city, through some mishaps, got his hands and face badly scalded, so much so that the skin came entirely off. He suffered the greatest pain until the wounds were dressed with the Mustang Liniment and wrapped up in cotton batting, which as soon as done, the pain ceased and the patient fell into a quiet and peaceful slumber.

We learned yesterday that he is now well and attending to his business as usual. Such facts are worth remembering. The Mustang Liniment is warranted to cure any disease requiring an external application. Feb. 3.

Both of the mares are smart trotters.

I will give $5 for any information where they may be found, and a liberal compensation, in addition to the $5, for the delivery of the horses at my stable.

A Farm and other Lands for Sale, IN CASS COUNTY.

I DESIRE to sell my Farm, situated in North Prairie, Cass county, Ills., half a mile south of the town of Virginia, 14 miles north of Jacksonville, 15 miles south east of Beardstown, and on the line of the contemplated railroad from St. Louis, by Jacksonville and Virginia, to LaSalle. It consists of 180 acres timber and 650 acres prairie—the latter in one body, and all in cultivation and fenced into nine fields. It has 200 acres sown in timothy and clover, and contains a large number of fruit trees. The apple orchard, which is excellent grafted fruit, yielded over 700 bushels apples last year. The land, for a stock farm, and in fact for all kinds of farming purposes, is unsurpassed by any in the State. The south 600 acres of it, may be fenced into 12 fields of nearly equal size, and have excellent stock water in every field.—The facilities for schooling children in the vicinity are good. The Virginia Seminary, a new and very flourishing institution, is located within 600 yards of the farm.

I have also 600 acres other lands for sale—of which 140 acres first rate timber and 100 acres prairie—(the latter all under fence and mostly in cultivation) are situated on Sangamon bottom, 12 miles west of Petersburg. The said prairie is very rich and will make an excellent farm. For further particulars inquire of William Naylor at Virginia, or the undersigned. I will be in Virginia from 10th to 20th May, and perhaps till 1st June. RICHARD S THOMAS.

WASHINGTON, May 3d.

The Speaker presented the resolution of the Legislature of Kentucky, asking amendment to military bounty land warrants for educational purposes in that State.

Mr. FLORENCE said the Committee on Naval Affairs had under consideration a project for establishing floating schools for the the education of seamen.

The House went into a committee of the whole, and took up the bill to establish the office of Surveyor General of New Mexico. The bill confirming pre-emption rights on lands in Baton Rouge grant in Louisiana, passed last week, was reconsidered, amended and passed.

Mr. HAVEN offered a resolution amending the rule, so as to admit any amendments to appropriation bill intended to carry out liabilities resulting from existing treaties, which was adopted.—The Indian appropriation bill was then taken up.

At one o'clock, a message was received from the President, vetoing the land bill for the indigent insane.

A singular abuse of the franking privilege, and fraud on the Post Office Department has come to light.

Two members of Congress, authorized to use their names for franking documents, have been detected selling franked envelopes at 50 cents per hundred. A Claim Agent purchased a lot, and inclosed 1,100 circulars, which passed through the Post Office, when an investigation led to detection of fraud, and the matter was compromised.

NEW ORLEANS, May 1.

Extensive freshets have occurred in Louisiana. The Times has private correspondence from Europe, that a Democratic rising throughout Russia and Poland, has been decided upon by revolutionary committees, and that it has probably broke out before this.

NEW YORK, May 3.

The steamer Black Warrior arrived from Havana to-day. She was greeted with marked courtesy at Havana, and her manifest accepted without comment.

CINCINNATI, May 4, 3 p. m.—Hon. J. J. Crittenden is severely condemned by the community in consequence of his volunteering in defending Ward. A public meeting held at Harrison, Ind., a resolution was offered requesting a withdrawal of their request that Mr. Crittenden should deliver the annual addresses. The Kentucky papers are full of particulars of meetings to denounce the Wards, and calling on Crittenden to resign. The Ward family have left Louisville, and the whereabouts of the murderer is not known.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The House, this morning, went into committee on territorial bill.

In Senate—Seward and Chase presented petitions against the Nebraska Bill. Mr. Lanier presented a memorial from Missouri and his cousin, on the subject of spiritual manifestations, asking investigations.

NEW YORK, May 4.—The re-organization of the Crystal Palace is going on. The [illegible]ssion is large and imposing. Visitors beg[illegible] ble at an early hour and the buildin[illegible] ed to its utmost. Barnum made a[illegible]

HARRISBURG, May 4.—Gov. [illegible] sick and confined to bed. H[illegible] Saturday—disease congestion [illegible]

QUEBEC, March 3.—The Par[illegible] were totally destroyed by fire th[illegible] half past 10 o'clock, by some una[illegible] tality. The handsome and expensi[illegible] ated on Cote and Colon built as a [illegible] Sisters of Charity, which was ne[illegible] temporarily at an immense expense fo[illegible] ing of Parliament is this moment in one sheet of flame. The cupola at one end the handsome spire at the other, are wreathed in smoke and the flames are rushing over Mr. Dean's house on the east side and bursting forth through gothic windows.

All around the firemen [illegible] adjusting, for the building is at the point of destruction, and thousands of people are looking on and doing what they can in the way of saving property; but the house is doomed. A carpet for this building, costing 150 pounds was bought and paid for, but no doubt it is covered by insurance. All particulars will be given as they become known.

ARRIVAL OF THE AFRICA.

NEW YORK, May 5.—3 P. M.

The Africa arrived this morning. She brings dates to the 21st; she brings 115 passengers.—The Franklin arrived out on the first.

Richardson & Brothers, the agents for the City of Glasgow, say they are not afraid of that vessel being lost; she had a supply of water for 40 days, provisions for 65 days, and coal for 26 days; she had on board 373 passengers.

The treaty of closer alliance between France and England has been ratified. A treaty of alliance, defensive and offensive, has been signed between Austria and Prussia.

War news from the Danube, Baltic and Black Sea is unchanged. The expulsion of Greeks was regularly enforced. The Greek insurrection assumes an aspect of Guerilla warfare. Lord Stafford has published a long manifest against the Greek government favoring insurrection massacre of Greeks by Turks. At Belon reported but supposed doubtful accounts still vague in relation to violation of Servia territory. Prince Deal is reported to have summoned Montenegro to arms against Turks. Camphaigne in Asia is expected to be opened in April.

SPAIN.—Mr. Soule is still urging the settlement of the Black Warrior affair.

The Journal of Petersburg publishes the Czar's reply to declaration of war. Nesselrode favor Greek insurrectionists; in gulf of Finland much broken.

London, Saturday.—Nothing new except rumors from Paris and Vienna of a new Prussian mediation.

LIVERPOOL, Saturday 29.

PARIS, Friday 28.

A dispatch from Omar Pacha confirms previous accounts. The Turks were twice successful against superior forces at the passage of the Danube; but in obedience to orders they retreated on the line of Karrassaw. St. Petersburg papers contain a manifesto reply to the English and French declaration of war, and throws the responsibility of the war on France and England.—It is asserted that Sweden had entered into a secret treaty with Russia by which an absolute excitement, forbidding more than 4 ships at once to enter a harbor has been restored, and the same extended to Norway.

Yesterday the House again took up in committee the bill relating to Utah, but finally agreed to report unfavorably to it. Territorial bills were afterwards considered; among them one for the prospective admission of Oregon into the Union. Upon this last, further action was taken. The Speaker adjourned the House against the will of the majority. There was great indignation among the members, and a violent altercation took place between the Speaker and Mr. Campbell of Ohio; friends interfered and separated them.

FARMERS

LOOK TO YOUR INTERESTS.

WE are now manufacturing and offer for sale A. G. Randall & Co's Combined Corn Planter and Cultivator, one of the most useful agricultural implements ever offered to the farmers of the west. Every defect of the machine that has heretofore existed has been carefully remedied, and every improvement added to make it, in every respect, worthy of the patronage of the farmer. It is simple in its construction, and no pains have been spared to make it a strong and durable implement. Any person capable of managing a horse can plant ten acres a day with it and one horse, in as good condition as can be done by any other method. It matters not whether the ground has been recently plowed or not; it cultivates a space of sixteen to eighteen inches in width, so that the corn is planted in perfectly mellow and fresh soil. Farmers who cannot break their ground in season can do their planting previous to breaking the ground, then break the residue at their leisure without the least detriment to the corn. As to its qualities as a Cultivator, we believe it has no superior. It is not a heavy draft for one horse, and is easily managed, even by a boy, either in planting or cultivating. Therefore it will be readily perceived that no other planter has equal merit; and that it is to the interest of all to examine it before purchasing any other. It can be arranged to plant two rows as well as one at a time, to suit the operator.

☞ Manufactured at Mechanicsburg, Ill., where all orders will be thankfully received and attended to. Shipments made to any point possible. A supply will be constantly on hand at B. F. Fox's hardware store in Springfield, also at Mechanicsburg. apl3-wly. A. G. RANDALL & Co.

We place this useful contrivance on all sizes of Mills, by which means we convert a Corn Mill into a Stock Feed Mill, but a few minutes work to put it on or take it off.

We manufacture portable Mills, single and double geared (best quality of French burrs,) to grind Wheat, Corn and Stock Feeds, calculated for steam, water or horse power.—These Mills have been run by steam and horse power in competition against the other make of Mill in our city, at our State Fairs, and have never failed to carry off the first premium—on one occasion was awarded a beautiful silver medal. Our Mills also took two first premiums, at the best Mills, at two Annual Fairs of our Mechanics' Institute.

Also, Portable Saw Mills, to be run by steam, water or horse power. This Mill was exhibited in operation by horse power, at the Ohio State Fair, in 1850, when it was awarded a premium and a splendid silver medal.

Also, different kinds of Portable Horse Powers, and Steam Engines. All our articles, for ease of operation, simplicity, usefulness, and durability, are surpassed by none now in use.

All our articles are warranted as represented—or no sale—at our cost of transportation and the money refunded.

For a full description and testimonials of merit and usefulness we refer those interested to our pamphlet, to be had at our factory, where we take pleasure to explain each article.

ISAAC STRAUB & CO.

NOTE.—Mr. Kimball, the partner of J. H. Burrows, while exhibiting a Burrows Mill at our State Fair, last fall was boisterous about his Mill, and courageously entered into a verbal agreement with me to grind corn thus: Whoever grinds the most, regarding quality and quantity, was to be the owner of both Mills, at cash and every trial:

FIRST TRIAL.

Straub to run an 18 inch Mill;

Burrows & Co., to run a 20 inch Mill;

SECOND TRIAL.

Straub to run a 22 inch Mill;

THIRD TRIAL.

Straub to run a 26 inch Mill;

Burrows & Co., to run a 30 inch Mill.

When the pinch came, that boisterous courage jumped out. To the above I now append a challenge to grind cob feed out of whole ears of corn:

I will run my 18 inch "Queen of the South," with a cob-breaker attachment, the same article that took the premium at the Ohio State Fair, last fall, against a 24 inch Burrows Mill and Wm. Stewart's Ohio and Kentucky Stock Feed Mill, both to be run at once; and if you are apprehensive of a risky business, you have my entire approbation to run Mr. Pomeroy's Corn Crusher as an auxiliary. Should my single article fail to grind equal in quality and quantity to the combined productions of the two or three Mills, (just as you please,) then you can draw a few hundred dollars as stakes put up.

Come boys, don't be cowardly—there is nothing like walking straight into the merits of a thing.

ISAAC STRAUB.

To J. H. BURROWS & Co.

Herndon against the World in Horses.

Mr. Crowder:

SIR:—According to the notice which I gave you, immediately upon seeing your challenge to show horses, I repaired to the place and at the time set. My dear sir, I could neither find horses, pitcher or Crowder, on the ground. Sir, was the day too hot for your horses and too uncomfortable for yourself? Why, what is the matter Mr. Crowder? My good sir, you acted so much like the gentleman in your last, by first abusing and deriding my horses, and then inviting me with others, to come to your stable and you would do wonders on the second Saturday in May; that I really think of coming. But in this last invitation you inadvertently left out the pitcher, that, I hope, was an oversight, and as such, will be corrected by you.

Now, sir, all I ask of you, is to challenge me to come, declare the ground on that day free to yourself, and all others that may choose to come. Leave the matter of a superiority of horses to fifteen judges, and have ready the pitcher, and if my horses and myself live, you will see me at your own stable. Sir, you, I hope, have discovered I have said nothing against your horses, nor will I while they are on trial. It would be dishonorable in me so to do. If you have departed from the rule which governs gentlemen, I am sorry for it. Respectfully,

A. G. HERNDON.

P. S. If you have the pitcher ready for me, if the distance is to my favor, I will have twenty dollars ready to deliver to you, should you exhibit one single fine stallion, of fine size, from your stable; and if you shall fail, the people of Sangamon were hereafter think [illegible] of your horsemanship or your horses, for you say you have been at it twenty years. HAMILTON AND LINCOLN.

A days sojourn at these two station points north of us on the Chicago and Mississippi railroad, enables us to give a few items in relation to their present condition and appearance. The Hamilton point is sixteen miles this side of Bloomington, and situated in one of the most beautiful and productive regions of the State. We had occasion to pass this same place last July. There was then one dwelling built and a small store opening by Mr. Gill. We counted yesterday forty-five occupied buildings. There are four dry goods shops, two druggists and two groceries. Some dozen other buildings are holding back waiting for lumber from Chicago.

We learned from Mr. Armington, the enterprising Superintendent of the station, that 60,000 bushels of wheat have been shipped from there the past winter, and that some weeks his freight bills have come up to $500. He thinks there is 100,000 bushels of surplus corn that will be shipped from there during the summer. Gill & Bro's are doing a very large shipping and trading business. Messrs. Dills & Howser have a large stock of dry goods and are selling off fast. Mr. Armington deals largely in lumber. They will want at least a million of lumber during the summer. One or two hotels will go up this season. They have subscribed to build an Academy, forty by fifty feet, two stories high. The village is backed up by a rich, beautiful farming region, already well settled. Trade comes here from Delavan, Mt. Hope, Armington and Waynesville.

Lots sold last year at the start at from $10 to $50. The most handsome and eligible business lots are selling for $50. The four corner lots nearest the depot are valued at $500 each. Owners of lots are almost all residents here and living in their own buildings. We don't wish to write any poetry or make any blow over the little site at Hamilton; we think, however, they are going ahead, on the right principles. We shall be disappointed if they don't get up a village of twenty-five hundred people before five years are past. We forgot to mention one thing; there are about sixty voters in town and but two of them, in favor of the Nebraska bill. Those two seem to have been led away by the St. Louis Republican. That paper is all law and gospel to them. The Republican is a big paper, and a smart paper, yet its attempts to Nebraskaize its readers in Illinois has been poorly rewarded.

LINCOLN is fourteen miles below Hamilton. Its present appearance is considerably behind that of its little neighbor above. There are half a dozen small dwellings, two or three stores, and the depot buildings. Messrs Johnson & Ryan have put up a large store and warehouse. Mr. Hendrickson, formerly from Franklin, this side of Jacksonville, and Boren & Forbis have opened small trading shops. They are about erecting a steam saw and grist mill.

We did not learn the amount of shipping from here the past winter. The country about for the most part has been bought up by speculators, consequently is over-spread as with the hand of pestilence. It's the misfortune of the land, not the vice of speculation, to which we allude.—Every-body in this country is in for making money. The root of the mischief lies in the fact of the too close relation of souls to pockets. If our speculators would stop now and turn their attention to improving the lands in their possession, our whole railroad lines would soon blossom with wealth and beauty. The country about Lincoln seems to be a blessed land of speculators. All are waiting to get rich on the labor and improvement of their neighbors. The notion is a pleasant one, but the country has a sorry time of it.

There is still a good show for Lincoln. The country about is "great for corn and raising stock." There's a plenty too of timber. The building of the Court house is counted to be a tall feather in her cap; and after that, lawyers, doctors, merchants and mechanics will likely put down their stakes in quick succession. Hickox & Co. will soon complete their large hotel, and a number of grain stores will be in readiness for the fall market. We think to see the town "go ahead." All these railroad points are tributaries to large places, such as Springfield.

Lincoln has two doggeries in operation; one where they sell bad whisky, (of course it's bad) and another, where a man from Chicago is keeping and training twenty pointers. He values them at the price of a lot a piece, $100. The same man picked up half a dozen prairie wolves a few days ago, a few miles east of the town. His menagerie is quite an item of interest to the fancy men of the country.

In conclusion, we must tell our readers we liked our trip amazingly. We owe a word of thanks to the very gentlemanly conductors who accompanied us on the trip. We mean Messrs. Burleigh and Hollister. When we ride again we hope to be on their trains.

PETERSBURG RAIL ROAD.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

We notice in every paper published in your city, something said relative to the prospects and future destiny of Springfield. Now, what is it that has wrought this great change in your prosperous and growing city? Your population has almost, if not quite, doubled itself in the last six years. You are at this time witnessing a greater improvement perhaps, than at any former period of your existance. A vacant lot upon your public square, if one could be found, would be worth a small fortune to the owner. The time has been when the laboring man could hardly obtain employment. Now his services are sought daily. In fact, there is a demand for almost everything, and almost everything to supply the demand.

Every man who knows the history of your place will answer—this change has been brought about by your rail roads, and knowing this, your "old fogies," the very men who have realized the largest fortunes by the growth of Springfield, and who now have enough of this world's goods, and some to spare, if they had the liberality to do it, are up at the crowing of the cocks and making every effort to defeat the Petersburg road. Now sir, if these men by their exertions are to defeat this road at your coming election, because Springfield is sufficiently advanced to suit their purposes, I think the time is coming, and is now, when "Young America" should put her shoulder to the wheel and rescue Springfield from their hands and place her where she ought to be, on the road of progress.

It only remains for your city to say, we will have this road, and we have it. Menard, Mason, and other counties on the line, are now waiting to hear your verdict. If you are found guilty, and defeat this measure, recollect you are cut off from a portion of Illinois, which for fertility of soil is not equalled by any in the State, besides the advantages you would derive by having access to the timber, coal, limestone and lumber, which would be, as you will acknowledge, no small item to be counted, in your future growth. But we will not anticipate the defeat of this road. We believe there are men in Springfield, who have influence, if they have not money, who are warm friends for this project, and who will use their efforts in its behalf and thereby promote their own interest and that of their neighbors.

THE RUSSIANS AT JAPAN.

With all our boasted enterprise and originality, of which we fondly imagine ourselves possessors of a larger share than is vouchsafed to other nations, there is a nation over the water that has an inherent vigor and aspiring youthfulness that successfully vindicates it from the charge of degenerate weakness so often brought against the other European powers. Russia, though large, is not yet grown; though powerful, she has hardly arrived at the meridian of maturity, at which national greatness shows itself most resplendent, and though, as anti-republican as possible, she possesses fewer malcontents than Austria or Prussia.

We sent an expedition to Japan, some time ago, to induce the Emperor of that country to throw open his ports to our commerce, and admit us to a participation in the benefits of his trade. We appropriated to ourselves considerable credit for originating the idea, and experienced a wondrous degree of complacency, while the eyes of the world were directed admiringly on us, anxiously awaiting the issue of the enterprise. We thought the Japan trade was ours exclusively—a monopoly, the inestimable profits of which would flow, in an undivided stream, into our pockets. But we counted without our host. The Russian Czar is not more neglectful of his interest than Americans; and, conscious of the advantage and importance of a footing in Japan, he sent a squadron thither with the self same object in view, and for the further purpose of keeping a sharp look-out on our movements. The news we now hear is that Russia has succeeded in inducing Japan to throw open her ports. This has been accomplished with less than half the august ceremony that marked our movements, and places Russia in a position of a successful rival, for that which was to have been all our own.

Our Japan expedition was entirely too cumbrous an affair, and occupied too much time in its completion. If we were determined to accomplish our object, Commodore Perry should have been instructed to use a little more promptness and decision. We cannot see the necessity for the formality of waiting several months before the Commodore demanded an answer to the President's letter to the Emperor. The Russians acted much more promptly and accomplished their object with half the trouble. The Czar is pretty well satisfied that ours is the only country on earth from which he has anything to fear. Russia and the United States are similar in many respects, while utterly and intrinsically antagonistical in others. Both are young, vigorous and expansive—encroaching inevitably on the landmarks of inferior nationalities with which they come in contact. The one derives its power from a combination of individual freemen, while the other is swayed hither and thither at the beck of a single master mind. Which will prevail?

We have encountered the Czar in Japan, and we shall meet again at Phillippi. We look on the Sandwich Islands as already ours, and repose in conscious security of the possession, when it is known that our formidable rival has his eye on the same desirable acquisition. Probably, when we send a commissioner thither to consummate a treaty of annexation, we will find that we have been forestalled by a power that works more secretly, though not less surely.

It is time that this subject claimed the attention of Congress. If we want the Japan trade, the China trade and the Sandwich Islands, we must stir ourselves, to counteract British influence in the Celestial Empire, and Russian influence everywhere else on the Pacific.—St. Louis Eve. News.

CHIEF OFFICERS AND STAFF OF THE BRITISH ARMY.—A recent London journal remarks that the staff of the expeditionary army is particularly remarkable for the number of Irish gentlemen in it. The Earl of Lucan, who commands the cavalry, has a rent roll of upward of £10,000 a year and may well be described as the Cincinnatus of the British army. Lord de Ros, cousin of the Duke of Leinster, is also an Irishman. So is Sir R. England, who is a distant relative of Smith O'Brien. Sir D. Lacy Evans is a Limerick man. Brigadiers Airey and Eyre are also natives of the Emerald Isle. Of the five chief officers against Russia, in command of divisions, all are of different birth—a Scotchman, a Hanoverian, an Irishman, a Canadian, and an Englishman—thus, Sir George Brown is a native of Linkwood, near Elgin; the Duke of Cambridge was born at Hanover, Sir De Lacy Evans in Ireland, Sir Richard England in Upper Canada; the Earl of Lucan is the only Englishman of that rank, and is a Londoner by birth, though Irish [illegible] scent. With respect to the fleets, the t[illegible] est in command are not Englishmen [illegible] Napier was born in Scotland, [illegible] das at Calcutta, though Scot[illegible]

ONE OF ENGLAND'S CU[illegible]

We present to-day an interesting illu[illegible] of the war spirit which is now stirring Eng[illegible] blood, young and old. A lad, who is hardl[illegible] his teens, being but thirteen years of age, a [illegible] shipman aboard one of the ships, has written a letter home from Wingo Sound, in the Baltic where Napier's fleet had been hovering, according to some of the earlier accounts.

The youthful midshipman, in obedience to Napier's injunction, is "sharpening his cutlass," and is as hungry to cut and thrust as the most veteran fire-eater of them all. The lad has hardly escaped from the nursery, and yet his mother's milk is fast curdling in his veins, and he is eager to clutch the throat of a Russian, and glut his thirst in his blood as a young tiger.

In the letter which follows, the precocious thirst of blood and the gentle thoughts of the child's home mingle together in strange discord. We conceive nothing more pathetically tragic than the contrast. What a terrible rebuke to war is this infantile ferocity, and what an appeal for peace this childlike love. The Peases, Sturges, Cobdens, and the whole breadth of the Peace Society, are powerless in comparison.

The possible fate of the little hero and of his infant brothers, that England is nursing in blood is the saddest prospect of this European war.—We can fancy when the dread echoes of each battle are startling English homes, the trembling fathers and fearful mothers stealing frightened glances at those dreaded bulletins, which will certainly record whether the day be for England or Russia, a victory or death. We hope that the name of the young hero, E. C. H., will not at any rate, be found there. One who loves home as he does deserves a better fate.

Without much ado, we will allow the young gentleman to speak for himself:

A LITTLE VOICE FROM THE BALTIC.

"Dear Mamma and Papa: I am going to send you a few lines about our own division of the Baltic fleet. You, of course have heard about our parading at Spithead, where the Queen came down upon us, and then we made the Nore, Sheerness, and after that we came on the Sound at Wingo. A great many people came down from Gottenburgh to see us, and call us the deliverers of our country, and make presents and other things to us. I hope if all goes well, to get a month's leave when I come back to England after the war. I have got one of the most dangerous and best posts for myself for chances of taking prizes in the ship, as I am captain's aid-de-camp, and I shall go with him in his gig. I am trying to get a pistol, as every one else has one, and I mean to get one too if possible. We are allowed them. I can get one easily as I have lots of tin supplied by kind aunties. I mean if possible to get some prize money. I am in the first division of boarders, and am nearly sure if any work is going on to be in the midst of it.—I am happy to say I have got a very good sword indeed, and am very happy. I should like to see before I go to the forts—very much indeed, but impossible, so I must hurry. Write to me soon, as once more I mean to send love to all, and a fond farewell. I am very much obliged to Marty and Henny. Tell them for their kind letters to me, during the short time I was in Portsmouth, though not able to go on shore. When the men practise firing we do also. It is so cold. I have some very nice thick things so that I do not mind it much. The packet goes this afternoon so I must hurry. Good bye dear mamma and papa and sisters.

I remain, dear all of you, E. C. H.

Seven thousand Firemen marched in the funeral procession of their deceased comrades—the victims of the casualty at the recent fire in Broadway, New York by which thirteen lives were lost. The houses of the various engine, hose hook and ladder and hydrant companies were hung in black, the flags on the public buildings were at half mast, and many stores on the rout of the procession were draped in mourning.

SATURDAY, MAY 6, 1854.

NEW YORK, April 28, 1854.

Dear Journal:

There was a tremendous storm of rain, hail and wind here, yesterday afternoon. Houses were unroofed; some vessels driven from their moorings; others capsized and lives and property lost; and what will be most generally regretted, the Ericsson ship, which had gone down the bay on a trial trip, was capsized and sunk in 10 feet of water, near the Jersey shore. She had gone some distance, and in a manner to give satisfaction to her proprietors. She will be raised.

Accounts from Washington induce the belief that the Nebraska bill is dead. There is a feeling of opposition to the bill among Southern members, which seems to be extending and increasing. It is believed, that, should the bill be brought up it will be lost. The speeches of Benton, and Harris of Mississippi against it are having great influence among the members. It is said that President Pierce complains of his friends for having required him to make the Nebraska bill an administration measure.

The news from India confirms the impression that the ports of India will be opened to our vessels. The government states that as this will be an entire change in the policy of the country, it will require a full year to enable it to make arrangements for the purpose.

No disposition has yet been made of the bill which has passed Congress granting lands for the benefit of the indigent insane of the States. The bill must be returned to the House in which it originated within ten days after it is delivered to him, or it becomes a law—unless before that time the President shall veto it. It is supposed that the President will suffer the bill to become a law without his signature.

KENTUCKY CORRESPONDENCE.

THE WARD TRIAL.

LOUISVILLE, May 2, 1854.

DEAR EDS.:—Ere this reaches its destination, you will have learned that the great Ward trial has terminated in the acquittal of Matt. F. and R. J. Ward, jointly indicted for the murder of Prof. Butler of this city. The rendering of this verdict is regarded as an outrage upon the community, and is by no means satisfactory.

So far as I am informed, everything honorable and dishonorable was resorted to, to thwart the ends of justice; and a plainer case of bribery, perjury and judicial corruption, was never recorded upon the pages of criminal history, or ever blackened the calendar of crime. Such rulings of the court, can nowhere find a precedent. We were not aware that a criminal could testify in behalf of himself; but such is the ruling in this important case; such is the law of Kentucky.—It has been decided in this State, the land of chivalry and beauty, the center of all that was noble and pure, that our school-houses can be invaded, the teacher insulted, vilified and shot, in a calm dispassionate moment, and the perpetrator adjudged innocent; not even guilty of justifiable homicide!

In the death of Mr. Butler, Louisville has lost one of her best, purest, and most worthy and talented citizens; who had done but his duty in school, and while sitting unarmed, surrounded by a band of beloved and confiding pupils, "strong in the integrity of his own heart," was murdered by a fiend, who now breathes the pure air of freedom, and exults over a victory, which the corrupting influence of wealth alone has won. This sad occurrence will long be remembered; sympathy for the bereaved widow of the lamented dead, will flow with time; but there are circumstances connected with the defence of this farce, that will not so soon pass. The passions of this community have bee[illegible] for the overruling power of [illegible] defeated [illegible]

[illegible] the [illegible] streets, for some distance, were densely crowded—variously estimated at from eight to twelve thousand persons. Speeches were delivered on the occasion, and various resolutions framed and adopted, expressive of the indignation felt by the multitude. The effigies of the Hon. John J. Crittenden, Geo. D. Prentice, the twelve jurors, the two Wards, and some others were burned in the Court House yard. Mr. Ward's splendid mansion was fired, his aviary and conservatory filled with the choicest plants and flowers, were almost entirely demolished. The fire was extinguished and the building saved in a damaged condition by the timely and courageous exertions of the Washington Fire Co., the others having been driven from the ground by the mob. Seventy dozen of doubtful eggs, and an occasional brick-bat, were thrown against the house of Mr. Wolfe, the State Senator from Louisville, who bore a conspicuous part in the defense of the Wards, and who took particular pains to stigmatize the character of his constituents, simply for wishing and desiring justice to be done to the murderers of the lamented Butler. All seems quiet now, but another outbreak is greatly feared.

Yours in the bonds of peace and quietude.

REVOLUTION IN PERU.

We extract the following intelligence from a letter from Lima to a commercial house in this city. It is dated March 26, 1854.

"The present state of the country, in consequence of the continuance of the Revolution and the instability of the government, is such as puts a complete stop to all trade.

The latest feature of the war is the sudden return, or rather the precipitate retreat of the government army at Lima; from what cause it is difficult to divine, unless in a paroxysm of cowardice. Bolivia had not even advanced one man into Peru, and not three hundred armed men were in Arequipa. Yet seized by some unaccountable panic, they retreated to Lima by Sea, first cutting the throats of their horses and mules, over a thousand in number.

General Castilla, the former President, heads the Revolutionary party. Of Don Domingo Elias, nothing has been heard since his defeat at Ica in January."

In addition to the foregoing facts, the writer of the letter makes the following sad comments, which show the unfortunate condition to which this large section of country is reduced by the continual outbreaks of rebellious and revolutionary aspirants after power:

"The result of all is, that the entire country South of Lima has declared against the present Government, which, it requires no extraordinary foresight to predict, will be overturned before two months. True, this would be of small consequence were it not the origin of twenty other revolutions in rapid succession to keep us for two or three years in trouble and uncertainty without any permanent or reliable Government.

Under such circumstances it is useless to speak about business, we must exercise patience and wait for better times."

Many persons complain of being pestered by bedbugs—it is easy to avoid the inconvenience. On going to bed strip off your shirt, and cover yourself from head to foot with boiled molasses. Let every part of the body be thickly covered with it. On coming to bite you, the bugs will stick fast in the molasses, and you can kill them in the morning.

Read the letter from JOHN S. CRUMP, Grand Saline, Arkansas, Cherokee Nation, bearing date, Aug. 10, 1853

DR. EASTERLY: Dear Sir—When I was in your city in March last, I purchased one dozen bottles of your Fever and Ague Killer, which you warranted to me. I have sold seven of the dozen, which I also warranted. Your medicine has given entire satisfaction so far, it having effected cure of cases of the Chills and Fever. One case particularly—a lady, who had been afflicted since the latter part of the past summer, and had tried a great many remedies, besides having a physician part of the time, all of which failed.—She bought a bottle of your medicine, and before she had used one-third of it, she was entirely cured, and has enjoyed good health ever since. In no case has it failed to effect a permanent cure. Respectfully yours, JOHN S. CRUMP.

INVALIDS OF SPRINGFIELD & VICINITY.

YOUR attention is urgently invited to a careful and candid perusal of something that has just been introduced into your city and the adjoining State.

PULVERMACHER'S HYDRO ELECTRIC VOLTAIC CHAINS.

A new and novel mode of applying a powerful remedial agent, so constructed as to be worn under the garments next to the skin producing a constant, uninterrupted current of Electro Magnetism, effecting immediate relief from the most acute pain, and also a permanent cure of all nervous diseases. It seldom has failed to furnish almost instant relief, and a final permanent cure, by being used according to directions in the following diseases: Rheumatism, gout, sciatica, paralysis, painful and swelled joints, neuralgia of the face, diseases of the spine, deafness and blindness, uterine pains, palpitation of the heart, periodical headache, St. Vitus dance, general debility, pains of the chest, hysterics, dyspepsia, all diseases that are caused by a deficient amount of Nervous Fluid, are greatly relieved, if not permanently cured by simply wearing the chains for a few hours each day.

Be it understood that it is not claimed that it cures all diseases, but only those for which it is recommended; and moreover we boldly claim and DEFY that no medicinal agent of any kind has performed so MANY cures during the last year of those diseases just named, as

And to prove this assertion, we defy any person to produce so many with authenticated certificates of scientific physicians and intelligent patients as may be found in a pamphlet of 36 pages, to be had (gratis) of the agent in this town. The electric chains were first introduced in France in 1850, and after being subjected to the most thorough and rigid trial by the first medical men in Paris, they were found to possess strange and marvelous power in relieving pain, wherever applied, and were introduced into the hospitals of that city, and also secured letters patent by the French government. They are now introduced in almost every Hospital in England, Germany, Austria, Belgium, &c., patented in those countries, where they have become the most Popular Curative Agent in the World.

They were first introduced in the United States about one year since, and went through the same trial as in Europe, and were at once introduced into every hospital in New York, where they are now in daily use effecting even more wonderful cures than had ever before been awarded them.—They are highly recommended by Profs. Valentine Mott, Van Buren, Post and others, who have published their views of their power and value in several of the medical journals. In that city, and are also in the daily practice of recommending their use to patients. A full account of their opinions may also be found in every pamphlet and sent to the address of any person in the State by applying (post paid) to J. B. FOSSELMAN. The Chains can be sent by mail, with full descriptions for use.

Price of Chains, $3 and $5.

Physicians are politely invited to call and examine their construction and pronounce upon their merits. One word to invalids—no person need fear that they will not accomplish just what it is claimed they can do, and all persons who have become disgusted with a constant pouring down of nauseous nostrums (bottled swill) are kindly and politely invited to give a trial.

N. B. One Chain will last for years and lose none of its electric power by wear, and can be applied to either adult or child.

Agent, J. B. FOSSELMAN, Springfield.

COMPOUND EXTRACT

IODINE SARSAPARILLA

Scrofula, or King's Evil, Obstinate Cutaneous Eruptions, Pimples on the Face, Blotches, Biles, Chronic Sore Eyes, Ring Worm or Tetter, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains in the Bones and Joints, old Sores and Ulcers, Rheumatism, Swelling of Glands, Syphillitic Diseases, Erysipelas, Lumbago, Diseases of the Kidneys, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Nervous Affections, General Debility, Neuralgia, or Tic Deloureux, Cancers, Goitre, White Swellings, Diseases arising from an injudicious use of Mercury, Exposure or Imprudence in Life, Female Irregularities; also Chronic Constitutional Diseases.

This valuable medicine combines the most reliable and efficacious articles in the vegetable kingdom. It is chiefly composed of the Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock, and the Hydriodate of Potassium, all of which are known to the medical faculty to be highly efficacious in the removal of diseases, and to have a specific action upon the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Blood, Glands, and Urinary organs, restoring them to a healthy action, enabling them to perform the functions which nature designed. It is now confidently believed that Doctor EASTERLY'S IODINE AND SARSAPARILLA is the best ALTERATIVE and BLOOD PURIFYING medicine ever offered to the public. It is cheaper, pleasanter and warranted superior to any sold.

For Scrofula.

DR. EASTERLY'S IODINE AND SARSAPARILLA IS recommended as the most efficacious medicine that can possibly be used. Not one instance of its failure has ever occurred when faithfully used. For Scurvy, Boils, Blotches, Tumors, White Swellings, Ulcers, Cancers, Enlarged Glands, Fever Sores, Mercurial Diseases, Syphilitic Symptoms, Leprosy, Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, and all cutaneous diseases. Dr. Easterly's Iodine and Sarsaparilla cannot be too highly extolled. It searches out the very root of the disease, destroys the germ by purifying the blood, driving out all impure or diseased fluids of the body, and so removing the CAUSE, renders the cure CERTAIN AND PERMANENT.

Indigestion or Dispepsia.

No medicine, perhaps, has ever been discovered which gives so much tone to the stomach, and causes the secretion of healthy gastric juice to digest the food, as Dr. Easterly's Iodine and Sarsaparilla. No one has used it for such complaints without benefit.

Rheumatism.

DR. EASTERLY'S IODINE AND SARSAPARILLA IS used with the greatest success in rheumatic complaints, especially such as are chronic. It cures by driving out all impurities and foul humors which have accumulated in the system, which are the cause of Rheumatism, Gout and swelling of the joints. Other remedies sometimes gives temporary relief; this entirely eradicates the disease from the system.

For Mercurial and Venereal Diseases, Affecting the Blood, Glands, Cords, Joints and Bones.

Dr. Easterly's Iodine and Sarsaparilla is the best remedy ever invented. This medicine is offered to the public, not as a mere purifier of the BLOOD, but as a powerful eradicator of the most virulent poisons, occasioned by MERCURIAL and VENEREAL TAINTS; which resist the action of all other remedies. It will cure the WORST KIND OF MERCURIAL DISEASES, no matter how deeply it may have eaten into the frame and vital organs. It will cure the WORST CASES OF SECONDARY SYPHILIS or VENEREAL DISEASES, no matter how long it may have existed, how bad, or how deeply seated in the system, it will annihilate and expel the virus and restore the system to a state of perfect health and purity. For Ulcers in the mouth and throat; Enlargement of the Glands, Goitre or tumors in the Throat, Nodes, Pains in the Bones and Joints, it is the only safe and sure remedy. Young Persons who have reason to suspect any impurity in their blood, either hereditary or the result of imprudence, ought to purify and destroy this virus before entering into marriage state, as they may thereby not only protect themselves against the dangers of impotence and other infirmities, but secure the certainty of a pure and healthy offspring. It can be used by persons of either sex, with the most perfect safety.

In all disorders of the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Organs, for Dropsy, Gravel and Liver Complaint.

Dr. Easterly's Iodine and Sarsaparilla is the best and only Extract that ought to be used. In these complaints, this medicine has performed most astonishing cures.

For Nervous Diseases.

No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which is produced by the use of Dr. Easterly's Iodine and Sarsaparilla, in the diseased, debilitated and shattered nervous system. Whether broke down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revived, and built up. In cases of Neuralgia, Nervous Headache, Loss of Memory, General Prostration, Nervousness, Vertigo, Pain in the Nerves of the Face, and in the various train of nervous affections, it will produce a cure in an astonishing short period of time. The effect of this medicine is to give permanent relief to the sufferer, and to restore the battered and debilitated constitution to its pristine health and vigor.

To the Ladies.

Ladies of pale complexion and consumptive habits, and such as are debilitated from any of the obstructions incident to the sex, such as obstructed or painful menstruation, Fluor Albus or Whites, Green Sickness, also excessive flow of the Menses, Barrenness, &c., can be restored by the use of two or three bottles of Dr. Easterly's Iodine and Sarsaparilla, to bloom and vigor. It is for the best remedy ever discovered for weakly children, and such as have bad humors—being pleasant, they readily take it.

It immediately restores the appetite, strength and color.—Nothing can be more surprising than its invigorating effects on the human frame. Dr. Carter's Cough Balsam,

For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Spitting of Blood, Pain in the Side, and Breast, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all Diseases of the Lungs and Chest.

AMONG all the celebrated remedies for Diseases of the Lungs and Chest, none seems to be meeting with such success and to give such entire satisfaction to all, as

This valuable remedy is purely Vegetable in its ingredients, and perfectly harmless in all its qualities, and as mild and pleasant as the most delicate cordial. It is very soothing and healing to the Lungs, and is in every where acknowledged by Druggists, Physicians, and all who have used it to be the most Effectual Curative known.

CONSUMPTION.

No disease incident to our climate is so universal, and at the same time so fatal, as Pulmonary Consumption. This awful malady sweeps over the land as a Destroying Angel, laying low the strongest and fairest of our race. Millions of the young and the old are annually hurried to the tomb by this dread national disease.

CONSUMPTIVE READERS!—Beware of mere palliative medicines. The object of nearly all the medicines now offered for diseases of the lungs, is to relieve and not to cure. Such is not the case with Dr. Carter's Cough Balsam. In Colds and Coughs, which are the first symptoms of Consumption, it is the most pleasant and effectual remedy that can possibly be used. In Confirmed Consumption it has been used with perfect and triumphant success, when the most eminent physicians had given up all hope as Valn.—Sufficient is the proprietor of its power to cure Tubercular Consumption, that he solicits a trial in the worst of cases.

SPITTING OF BLOOD.

This frightful symptom of consumption is speedily checked and prevented by the use of Dr. Carter's Cough Balsam, which heals the affected membrane, removes the incipient tubercles, and restores those vital organs, the lungs, to sound and healthy condition.

REMEMBER THIS.

Spitting of blood always arises from a tendency to tuberculous disease, and if not checked at the outset will sooner or later terminate in death. A person who arises blood once will raise blood again, unless a proper curative is immediately employed.

PAIN IN THE SIDE.

This distressing symptom of consumption arises from inflammation of the internal membrane called the Pleura, or from bronchial affections of the air passages. In either case it is a very dangerous indication of disease. It prevents full and free breathing, and weakens the natural strength of the system. The cause of this symptom should be removed at once, and nothing can possibly effect that object so speedily and happily as Dr. Carter's Cough Balsam, which is always safe and salutary in its effects on the constitution.

LIVER COMPLAINT.

In cases of consumption the liver is always more or less affected, and also the spleen, pleura and small intestines.—The effect of Dr. Carter's Cough Balsam in diseases of the liver, especially if it be of an obvious nature, is direct and powerful. Simple disease of the liver unattended by consumption is speedily cured by its use.

WINTER COUGH.

The harsh dry winter cough which afflicts old people and invalids in a low state of health, can be effectually cured by the use of Dr. Carter's Cough Balsam. It warms, soothes and stimulates the whole breathing apparatus, purifies and animates the blood, improves the secretive power of the liver, spleen and other large glands, and the digestive organs, and imparts new life to the wan and emaciated system.

BRONCHITIS.

Bronchitis, difficulty of breathing, harsh cough, a slimy expectoration, with all other symptoms caused by an affection of the tubes, leading from the throat to the lungs, are directly and specifically affected and cured by the use of Dr. Carter's Cough Balsam. This is a very painful, wearing and injurious complaint, and always has a powerful tendency to induce and soften the lungs, and thereby induce the worst form of pulmonary disease. Be warned in time ye afflicted and employ this valuable remedy.

EXPECTORATION.

Free expectoration is the most important object to be attained in all attempts to cure diseases of the chest and lungs. The cough which is distressing is simply the result of a desire to expectorate; and as long as foul matter exists in the air passages, it will continue to irritate the membrane and provoke a cough. Coughing is an attempt to throw off this matter, and expectoration gives great relief. Inability to expectorate in the latter stages of consumption is the cause of death.

Is a great expectorant. It dissolves the viscid and diseased matter in the air passages, changes it from a thick clotting substance to a thin harmless fluid, and throws it off with the greatest possible ease and comfort to the patient. There is no better medicine in the world, if its expectorant qualities alone be considered.

SPASMODIC ASTHMA.

For simple or spasmodic asthma, there is no better remedy than Dr. Carter's Cough Balsam. This distressing disease, which resists almost everything else, yields to the all powerful influence of this great remedy as readily as any other form of pectoral disease.

EVERY FAMILY

should be supplied with Dr. Carter's Cough Balsam, to use in the early stages of Coughs, Colds, Spitting of Blood, Pain in the Side and Chest, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Night Sweats, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough and Croup, and thereby counteract the consumptive tendency which is produced by our ever changing climate.

AMERICAN COLONIZATION SOCIETY.

The Ohio State Board urges the claims of that Society to the public consideration and favor in a very able article. Less than fifty years ago, in a meeting-house in this city, the first move was made in a private manner in Washington city, the plan of having a colony of colored Americans on the coast of Africa, was projected, and the society and its constitution was formed, with the design in view that the projectors the founders and framers of the Society at the moment. The enterprise then in contemplation, the conception of was to possess sentiments giving civilization and the arts of peace to the race, securing the unalienable rights of humanity to the other, and establishing the benign influences of Christianity and Republicanism on both. An enterprise conceived in such high, exalted, is worthy the best efforts of the best men in the world, however humble.

The enterprise would be more than human, were it not subject to some objection, and were not some points be cavil, and accordingly the Colonization Society has contributed its full share. It believes now that nearly the double-abolitionists interested in the progress, and aim to it. Gen. Cass commences. And it is one thing that has thus retarded from a portion of the country non-slaveholders, because the value of their labor proximity is supposed to be reduced, down their midst of the free colored population. We are sorry to feel constrained to admit that many narrow views of the enterprise, and probably does have settled with many and that the public mind is not yet sufficiently alive in imparting their aid to an enterprise having an infinite bearing upon the happiness and welfare of the feel beneficial in the belief that this same error exists in various localities, and is manifested in offer speeches, letter and determined hostility. At the present time, and of late years, the friends were unwilling to help forward this noble undertaking because, forsooth, the slaveholder might derive an incidental benefit from it.

We are pleased that the Society has survived the unmerited friendship of such advocates, and the distorted sensitivity of such opposition; and that it has pressed forward in a career of prosperity, fulfilling its mission for the benefit of mankind. It is important now, as always, that we should be reminded from private individual charity should be a work of a great love accomplish so much. The practicability of transplanting a colony there cannot be a doubt, and especially if there, is no longer professional—it is deemed evident, and needs no forth—"God help." The colony is firmly established, and its growth, hitherto gradual, is increasing with every succeeding year. It has already commended itself to the favorable consideration of the entire civilized world; enterprising citizens of every nation have settled in its immediate vicinity, and to that extent at least, effectually restrains their approach to humanity, the contract labor trade. It has established in that remote quarter of the earth, a Republican government, modeled after our own, which government has been duly recognized by several of the principal powers of Europe, and which would cease to be, should be by the government of the United States.

What grander spectacle can be contemplated by man than that of tearing the savage tribes of Africa, and bringing them under the influence of civilization, Christianity and republicanism, and the instrumentality of those whose ancestors were the victims of a pitiful warfare, and a more debasing system of unmerciful traffic and bondage by bondage? Can the cause of the subject, and the assurance of ultimate success, be doubted? Much has already been achieved, should stimulate to renewed and vigorous effort, until a home shall receive all the attributes of social and civil equality which are now denied to them on every part of the continent. They may be kept for the early settlement of the day when Methodists and the Wesleyan Missionary Society, and Baptists and Presbyterians, and Episcopalians of which government has been duly recognized by several of the principal powers of Europe, and which would cease to be, should be by the government of the United States.

BY TELEGRAPH.

New York, April 29.—The Arabia's mails reached the city yesterday, and appeared in the P.M. newspapers. The intelligence which they contain is unimportant. The Russians still occupy the Danubian Principalities, and have not crossed the Danube. The army and navy were lately reported to be in readiness to commence operations on the 1st of May.

The Washington correspondent of the Courier & Enquirer says it is stated that the vote on the Nebraska bill will be taken next week.

Mr. Seddon's resolution calling on the Secretary of War for the correspondence relative to the contract entered into with Messrs. Aspinwall & Co. for the transportation of troops to Panama, has been adopted.

The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Mr. Seddon as Minister to Austria
